Geffen Mesher implements APS Advance Practice Management during Tax Season

Portland, OR and Hanover, NH: Commercial Logic is pleased to announce that Geffen Mesher & Company, a leading CPA firm in Portland, Oregon is the latest US firm to convert to APS Advance Practice Management.

Geffen Mesher went live with APS in January and have successfully completed tax season using the new software. "Committing to a go-live in January took some courage and a lot trust, but with the APS software, the careful APS implementation process, and the quality of the Geffen Mesher team we knew we could make it work," said Peter Coburn, CEO of Commercial Logic.

The power and flexibility of APS Advance is already evident in the implementation. For tax season, Geffen Mesher was able to utilize many useful features, including:

- Customized payroll reports that include overtime calculations
- Automated entry of Tax Return Computer Processing fees
- A better project management structure

"APS is a success. Now that tax season is over we are looking forward to exploring and implementing additional capabilities, including contact management and scheduling," said Mike Rompa, Managing Shareholder of Geffen Mesher & Company. "We're also planning to substantially enrich the data attributes for clients and prospects in the system. These capabilities will help us manage our staff, evaluate our client relationships, and improve our marketing efforts."
